Profile

I am a final-year student, looking to create my career in the domain of Web Development. I have the understanding and hands-on experience in web development and software engineering principles and would like to be part of an organization where I could grow my skillset along with being beneficial to the firm.

Skills

Front End Technologies
HTML5, CSS, Bootstrap,Javascript, ReactJS

Back End Technologies
node.js, expressjs, REST API

Database
MongoDB, MySQL

Version Control System
Git, Github

Hands on experience in developing Web Apps using MVC architecture and in developing and consuming REST APIs.

Sound familiarity of Core Java and Python.

Projects

E-Commerce Website, MERN (MongoDB, ExpressJS, ReactJS, NodeJS) stack.
E-Commer Website is my final year academic project.
The website is an online garment store where a user can register himself/herself and carry out online shopping. There are 2 user roles, admin and consumer. An admin role is designed to perform the CRUD Operations on the website, while the consumer is the end user who can register and login into the website to purchase the garments.

TweetSpot, MERN (MongoDB, ExpressJS, ReactJS, NodeJS) stack.
TweetSpot is a Twitter clone website, where a user can
- Post a new tweet,
- Like a tweet,
- Comment on a tweet,
- Follow other users on TweetSpot.
Registration and login module are also implemented on the website.
